Anny Heid is famous throughout Hawaii for her stunning innovative floral creations. Inspired by the radiance and abundance of the islands, each piece is a flora sculpture to be admired for being totally unique and fresh.

Anny builds upon her knowledge and receives new ideas through traveling the world and attending International Flora Design Symposiums. When planning the floral design for an event, she offers personal care and attention to fruition the vision of her clients.

With an extensive collection of design materials at her fingertips, customizing the individual look of each event is Anny's specialty. By including elements that may evoke a sense of the particular season when the event takes place, or theatrical elements such as feathers or jewels, each flora design exudes spontaneity and sensuality.

Exquisite color and unique form are trademarks of Anny's design philosophy. From simplicity of a single type of flower in an arrangement to an elaborate combination of exotic florals, the possibilities are endless. Anny offers customized, personalized service and her floral designs bring a feeling of joyful exuberance and flamboyance to every event.
